

Team Autism

National Teaching School designated by

National College for Teaching & Leadership

Dorchester Library

Charles Street, Dorchester DT1 1EE

Friday 18th October 2019 1.30-3.30pm

Cost £35

- ❖ How we work as a team both in the classroom and between home and school can have a significant impact on pupils with ASD and those around them.
- ❖ This session is intended to help you better understand ways to develop classroom and home school practice to provide effective team support around the child.
- ❖ It is suitable for teachers, TAs, parents, carers and others who work with families and children.

Focus on:

- Exploration of how to support a child with autism to be ready to learn and fulfil their potential both at school and home.
- Classroom roles and how they can be distributed to manage varying needs and levels of anxiety.
- Effective home/school communication
- Discussion about practical strategies and case scenarios to illustrate team work in action.

Led by: Caroline Hubbuck

Specialist Leader of Education & ASD outreach advisor at Westfield Arts College.

Caroline works with staff and parents providing strategies to support children with autism both across the college and as an outreach teacher. She is also an EarlyBird trainer, providing training for parents of children with autism alongside staff working with their child. Caroline has a background of many years as classroom teacher and over 25 years experience in ASD.

Contact bookings.tadss@westfield.dorset.sch.uk for further info and booking forms