

Brick by Brick programme

(Formerly Lego® - based Therapy) to Build Social Skills for Children

Friday 18th March

9am—3pm, Durweston Village Hall, £60

For teachers & teaching assistants in mainstream and special settings, for primary and secondary age groups

Formerly known as LEGO® based therapy, the Brick-by-Brick programme brings young people together to make friends and develop skills over a shared interest in LEGO play. These sessions enable members to build LEGO models together as a team, developing collaboration, communication, problem-solving, turn-taking, conflict resolution and friendship – all through playing and having fun building LEGO models. By attending this course you will become a trained practitioner able to run the Brick by Brick programme in your setting. Providing a therapeutic intervention to support young people experiencing communication difficulties.

In this course you will learn:

- The theory, principles and research underpinning effective Brick-by-Brick Programmes (formerly LEGO®-based Therapy), as well as the different roles involved and how these encourage positive outcomes
- How to plan, prepare, set up and run sessions as an effective facilitator, including setting and tracking goals
- How to promote and develop a range of skills including, collaboration, social and language skills, in a variety of age groups using the Brick-by-Brick Programme model.

Course led by Erin Valente

Erin is an Early Intervention & Behaviour Consultant, as well as a licensed Brick-by-Brick™ programme Trainer having gone through her original training with Gina Gomez de la Cuesta in 2017. She then went on to do her Train the Trainer course in 2019. She has many years of experience delivering the Brick-by-Brick™ programme with children and young people in her daily practice, and has conducted a number of professional training courses both in person and online after gaining her training license. She has also consulted for Play Included to develop some at home parent resources.

Delegates will receive a certificate in the Brick-by-Brick Programme and a free login access for resources and forums.

Contact bookings.tadss@westfield.dorset.sch.uk for further information and booking forms or call 01305 833518

- Professional Development
- Outreach
- Initial Teacher Training
-